Adoniram Judson is often cited as the first Baptist missionary from the United States. But, in fact, this designation belongs to George Liele. His story is an important part of missionary history. To honor his faithfulness, we celebrate George Liele Church Planting, Evangelism, and Missions Sunday on February 7.